Weak lists stall outreach before it starts

Poor-fit accounts, outdated details, and manual research burn hours before the first message ever goes out.

01. Poor-fit accounts Companies outside your niche, size, or service tier.
02. Outdated details Departed leaders and inactive mailboxes.
03. Manual searching Hours spent in directories before any record is usable.
04. Lost focus Founder time pulled away from client delivery.

A better way to build a list

Every list starts from the criteria you agree on not from a directory search. Precision first, volume second. Your ICP is the contract. Every record must earn its place.

01. Agree the ICP Niche, geography, company profile, and target decision-maker roles.
02. Assess each firm Each candidate is individually evaluated against those criteria.
03. Organize for outreach Records are structured for direct action with source links.

What the list can contain

Availability varies by company. Missing or unverified fields are flagged, not guessed.

01. Company & website Verified company name, industry, and official website URL.
02. Decision-maker Relevant name and current operational title.
03. Business contacts Public business email and verified office phone.
04. Public profiles Personal and company LinkedIn, Instagram, Facebook.
05. Source links Traceable URLs used to verify each data point.
06. Commercial fit note Documented reason why this prospect fits your ICP.

How it works

Structured four-step research cycle. Research quality alone cannot guarantee inbox placement or sales results.

1. Agree the ICP & geography Set sector, company profile, geography, and target roles.
2. Identify candidate businesses Discover relevant firms fitting agreed criteria.
3. Review public evidence Inspect first-party websites and verified profiles.
4. Deliver structured records Deliver clean spreadsheet with source URLs and field statuses.

Clear standards, realistic expectations

The same transparency applied to research applies to this proposal.

WHAT I FOCUS ON:

" Relevance over inflated volume

" Traceable sources for every record

" No knowingly fabricated details or unverified guessing

" Unknown fields honestly flagged, not disguised

WHAT A LIST CANNOT PROMISE:

" Replies, meetings, closed clients, or guaranteed revenue

" Inbox placement (which depends on technical sender domain reputation)

" Results dependent on offer fit, copywriting, timing, and follow-through

Two clear lead-list options

Exact field availability depends on public evidence. Profile availability and recent signals vary.

OPTION 1 STANDARD TARGETED LEAD LIST

$79 (500 leads) | $149 (1,000 leads)

Includes: Company name & website, niche & location, public email & phone, official company social profiles, duplicate screening, clean CSV delivery.

OPTION 2 DEEP-RESEARCHED PROSPECT LIST

$199 (500 prospects) | $349 (1,000 prospects)

Includes: Everything in standard list, decision-maker name & title, personal LinkedIn, source links for key fields, documented buying/growth signal, evidence-based fit note, manual QA.

50 Free, niche-specific leads

See the research quality firsthand before deciding whether to continue. No obligation to buy.

" A no-obligation trial for a new prospective customer.

" We first agree target company type, buyer profile, and geography together.

" I then build the tailored 50-lead trial batch to those exact parameters.

" Nothing is prebuilt or recycled from old lists.

" One-time trial per agency. Not a discount and no commitment required.

Let’s define your target market first

Reply with the type of customer you want to reach and your preferred geography. I will use that to scope your 50-free-lead trial. No pressure. No obligation.
